"HARBOR HYMN"

Beside Lake Erie's water blue
Stands dear old Harbor High;
Her friendliness, her spirit true,
Her fame will never die.

Harbor, dear Harbor High,
Thy name we love!
Send forth thy guiding light
Reflected from above,
Purple and gold shall be
Colors of royalty,
We pledge our loyalty,
Harbor to thee!

SPORTS ARE SPIRITED

Spirit survives! The essence of life is spirit. To succeed in this world one must have spirit. Everybody has spirit whether it be small or large, visible or invisible. To some people spirit means very much, but to others it means nothing. Even though spirit means nothing to some people, they are exercising it in the way they believe.

People in the nation's view had their spirit exhibited quite frequently. The president of the United States was a man who had shown his determination and enthusiasm in his country's affairs. He set an example to the nation.

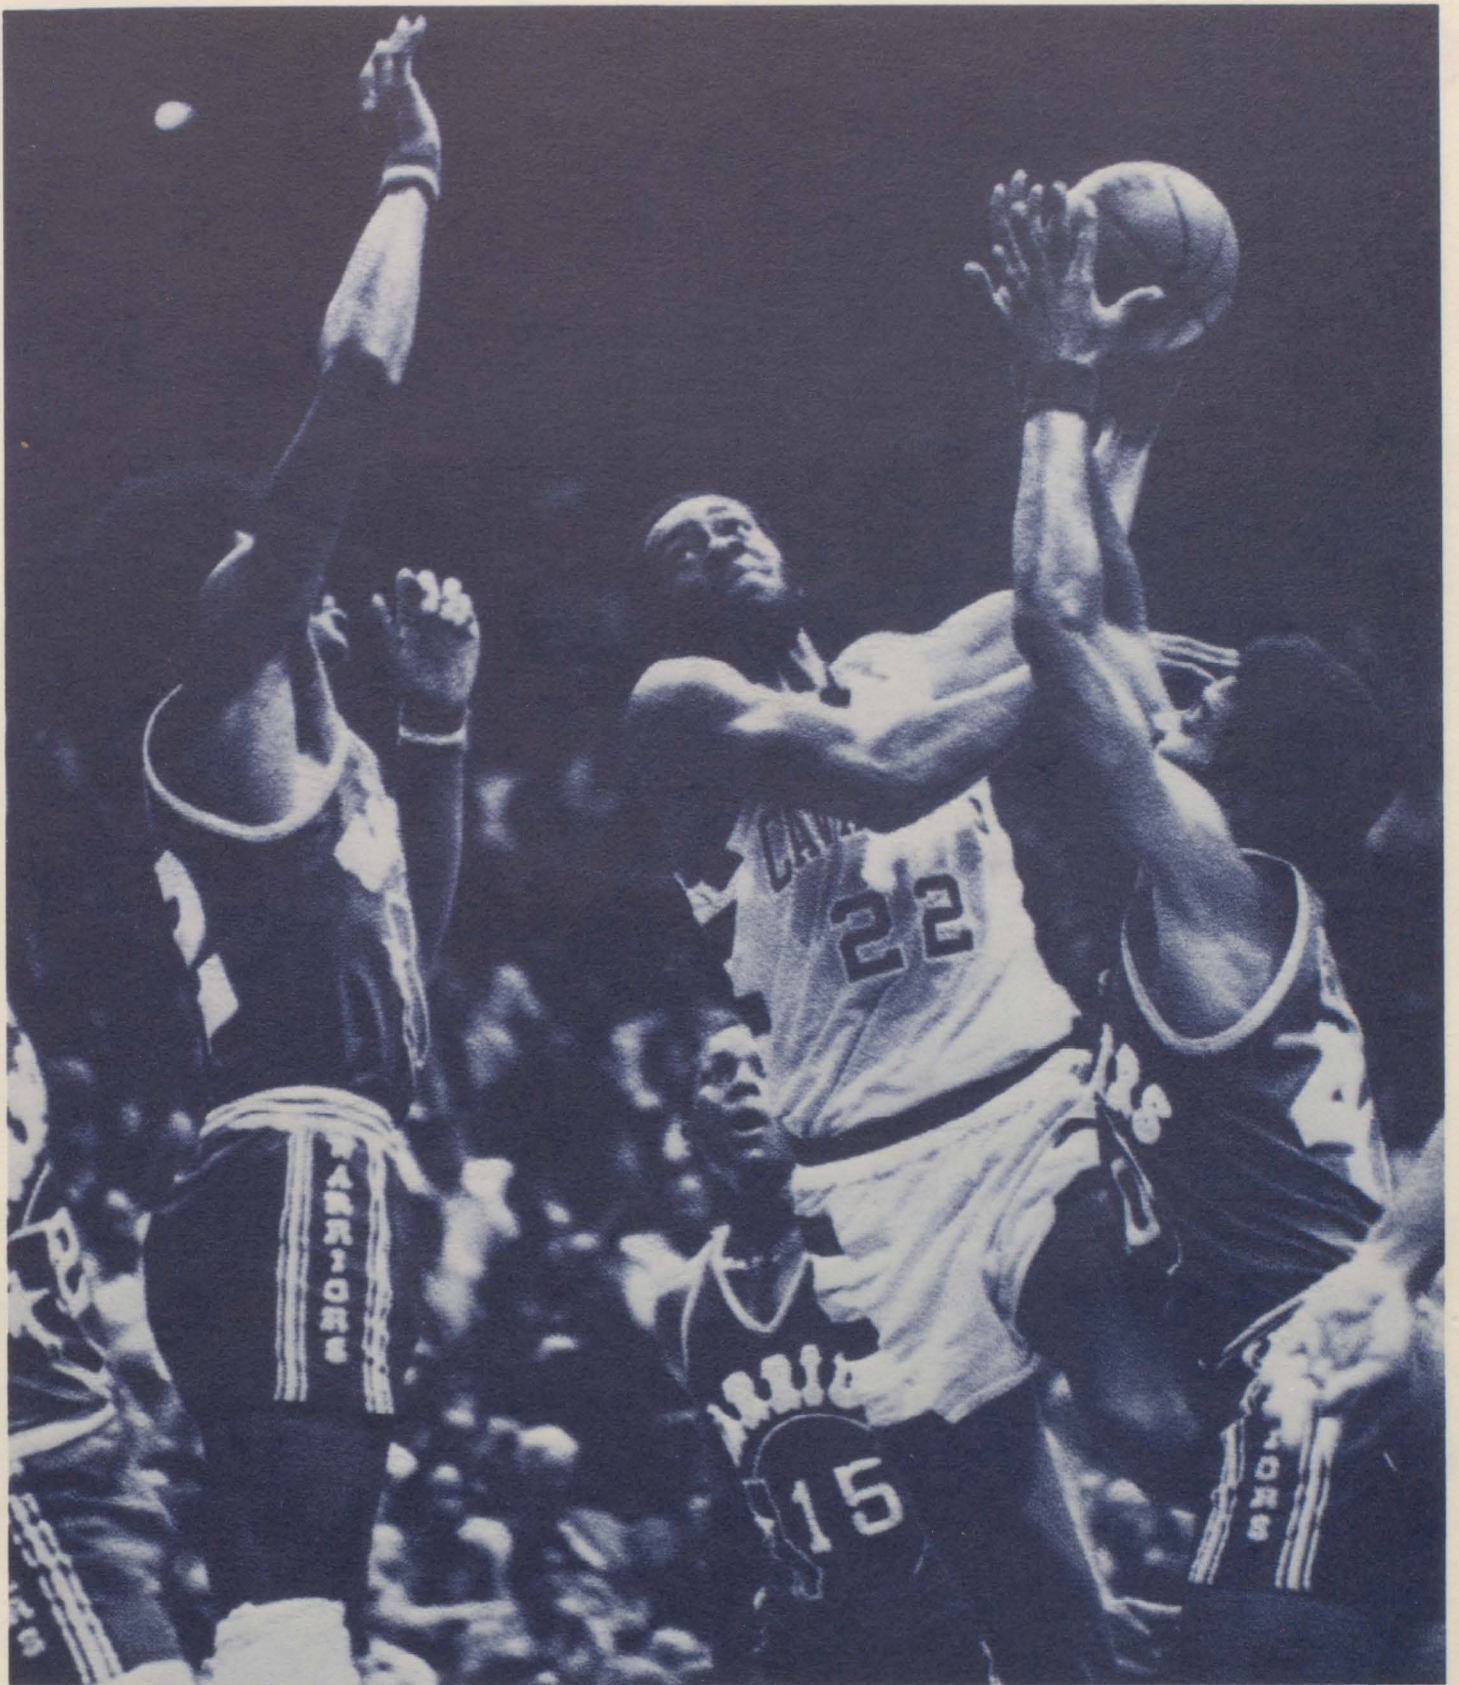

Professional athletes were also good exhibitors of nationwide spirit. They enjoyed their sport, and if they lost they just bounced back up and tried harder. Sports events were one way people of all walks of life were brought together, for a unified cause.

After breaking a play, this player rests.

Thinking about his showing thus far, Arnold Palmer ponders his next shot.

Jim Chones (22) of the Cleveland Cavaliers has his shot blocked by Derrick Dickey (40) of the Golden State Warriors.

ENTHUSIASM EXISTS

Spirit resembles good ol' Mother Nature in a very important way. Nature goes on no matter what happens in the technical world; the same as spirit goes on in our lives no matter what problems arise; for if it didn't, success would be hard to find.

A good example of this is the fisherman sitting quietly on the pier. This fisherman was fishing for quite a while and has certainly had much success. He had sat there patiently day after day trying to meet with success, yet no matter what, he never lost his spirit.

Classmates! Ah yes, the people we went to school with for all those years and became good friends with. Who had more spirit than they did? They always kept right on going in spite of any problems that arose.

During regular classtime and even in the halls they showed their spirit. Class spirit was shown through class competition throughout the halls and in classrooms. They also showed spirit in extracurricular activities such as: plays, variety shows, levy committees, etc.

The underclassmen were always teased by the Seniors, but through all of it, they kept their spirit and held their heads high.

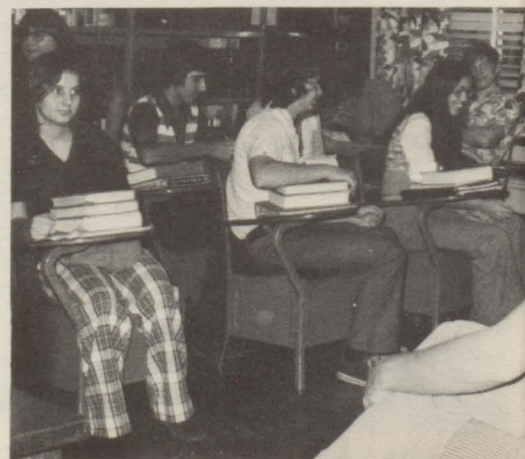

SPIRIT & SURVIVES

Despite other happenings, nature continues in it's own way.

STUDENTS UNITE THE COMMUNITY

Spirit played a very, very important part in school sports. This spirit was reflected through the students at various times. During assemblies or at the games students had the chance to show their spirit by helping the cheerleaders cheer the teams on.

Our community affairs also showed that spirit played an important part of life. The community was constantly going through urban renewal changes, upsetting many persons' daily routines and causing widespread criticism.

It also took a very long time to convince the community that our school system needed a levy to keep them going, but we survived and succeeded. What caused the success—SPIRIT!

Well, so much for that—Welcome to our book!

CAST OUTNUMBERS

Broadway came again to Harbor High with the production of "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever", May 9 and 10, 1975, but the turnout was disappointing.

The plot revolved around a New York psychiatrist, Dr. Mark Bruckner (Eric Carlson), and a seemingly scatter-brained young Daisy Gamble (Pam Spring).

Under hypnosis to cure her of smoking, Daisy reveals a previous existence as Melinda Wells of 17th century England.

Daisy has a boyfriend (Randi Lundi), Melinda had a husband (Mark Pendleton), and Bruckner also becomes romantically inclined.

"Melinda, will you marry me?" asks Edward Moncrief, sweeping Daisy off her feet with romantic gibberish.

AUDIENCE

Decked out in 17th century garb, Matt, George, Bob, and Kevin sing the bridal contract.

Gossip-hungry—Cindy, Lauren, and Kerry gather tidbits from the Daily.

Lauren makes up sister Pam before the show.

Daisy goes out like a light under the doctor's hypnotic power.

PINNACLES OF

Soft lights, formal dress, flowers, and people moving to the music of Four-Way Street and Red, White, and Blueberry made "Journey to Atlantis," at the State Road Armory, a night to remember for the 1975 seniors. Chosen to preside as king and queen were Joe Martello, and Brenda Reed, who are now Mr. and Mrs. Servers were Sue Powell, Lynn Gill, Connie Chiacchiero, Rae Ann and Randi Lundi, Jerry Karkut, Bob Pozsonyi, and Doug Young. Special effects included a moving octopus, mermaids, and wall murals of the city of Atlantis.

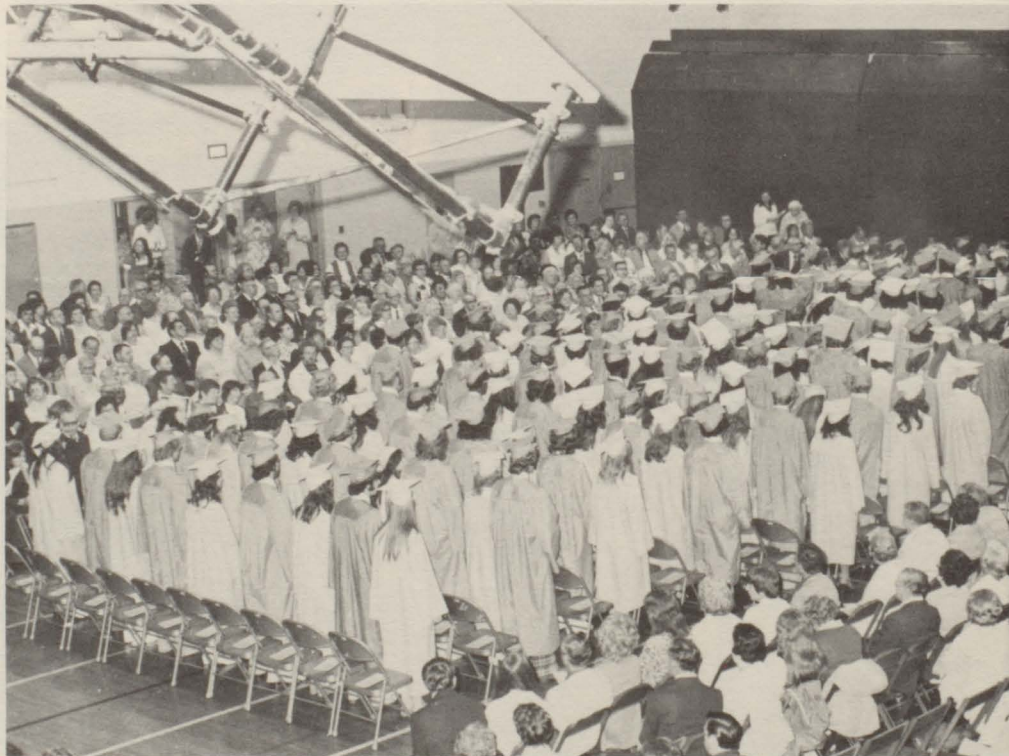

At graduation, number one student Meg Davis delivered the valedictorian address on apathy of the student body. The ceremony concluded with the singing of "Harbor Hymn" by the audience and seniors. Then, diploma in hand, they stepped from school-room to working world, making plans for the future, "Where will I go? What will I do? Will I ever see these people, my friends, again?"

"Let's go!" say Scott Gaines, Fran Colling, Ed Sanborn, and John Johnson.

"Fishes"—Sue, Lynn, and Rae Ann.

Class of '75 finally made it to the top, after 4 frantic years at Harbor.

THE ONE-TWO PUNCHES

Because the team was lead by one of the best one-two punches in the league, Lenny Lee and Kevin Lillie, the '75 tennis season for Harbor was one of the great achievement and ability to compete well. Coach Huff recalled, "the '75 season was outstanding for Harbor tennis." They advanced very well through the season, because of the overwhelming experience and ability to win. Coach Huff's hopes for the next season are many because he will have a young team. Even though they have little experience, they are eager to work hard and win. He will be testing them for their ability in actual competition.

Demonstrating his unique form, Dan Zeller lunges for the ball.

As the St. John's batter watches, catcher Dave Rosette returns the pitch.

Injuries, inexperience, and cold weather were main reasons why the '75 season of 7 wins and 11 losses took place. It was also the reason why the team was stopped many times dead in their tracks. "It was mainly a rebuilding year for the team," remarked coach Robert Rich. He also said that they held out many times until the last innings before losing, which shows that the team was young. They made it to the tournaments but again were stopped immediately. There are only four seniors leaving which will enable the team to be better in '76.

At the end of the season the cindermen supported a 4-3-1 dual record, 1st place finishes in the Hexagonal and City Series, 2nd place in the Mentor Relays and Geneva Night Relays, and 5th place in the NEC.

The coaches expressed that they thought the team should have gone undefeated in dual meets and feel that next year's team maybe the best balanced team in the area with a good chance of winning the NEC.

At the end of the season, Larry Ende set the school record in the two mile with a time of 9:58.5 and the 800 relay team of K. Holman, A. Crockett, D. Sargent, B. Sargent, qualified for the state meet because they had such a good record of wins.

Outstanding cindermen for the track team's '75' season were: K. Holman, R. Holman, K. Williams, T. Romano, D. Sargent, B. Sargent.

Competition

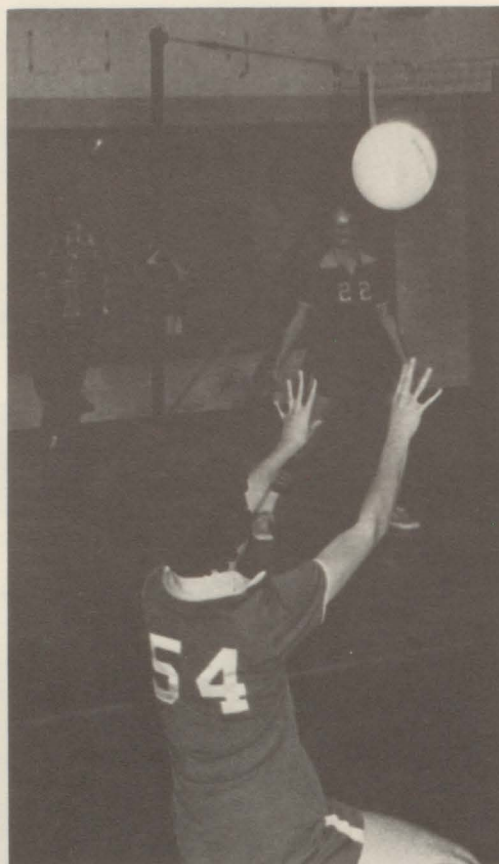

"It was a good season for being the first sanctioned season at Harbor," said Coach Lautanen. She also thought that the beginning of the season was much stronger than the end. The girls did learn more through competition with the other schools, especially when they went to state competition.

"On the whole," she said, "the team worked effectively and well together. The attitude of competition and practice was excellent among the team, which made it very enjoyable for me."

The varsity ended their season with a 6 win, 8 loss record including both NEC and state competition.

The J.V. squad had a wide variety of skill level and Coach Lautanen felt they also gained more in competition than through skill training. "I'm looking for a tough team next year," said Coach Lautanen." The J.V. ended their season with an impressive 7 win, 3 loss record.

Once again the Mariners have turned out a winning golf team. Coach William Wausulko said the 1975 team showed outstanding ability, skill, and determination.

After receiving a 10-8 record, and taking third place in all NEC, the seamen continued their season into the sectionals where they placed second. Then to further their season, the team went to district where they placed 8th and ended their competition.

Leading the linksters was Greg Del-Prince, who for the 4th straight year has proved to be one of the most outstanding golfers Harbor has ever had. His average game was 39. He has been awarded with the best of honors. Greg was chosen most valuable player for the past two years.

Other members of the team helping to make the season successful are seniors—Jeff Skaruppa, Nelson Benedict, and Jeff Sanders; juniors—Murray Blake, Chris Palm, and Dennis Delaat; sophomores—Jeff Berteau; and freshmen—Gordi Delaat and Steve McElroy.

The Mariners started their season by defeating Perry and Bula. They then lost to Riverside. They continued their season, by defeating Jefferson and Madison before going down to St. John, Edgewood and Conneaut. For the 2nd time, they defeated Bula but once again were outplayed by Riverside and Madison. They finished their season by winning the last matches against St. John, Conneaut, and Jefferson and Edgewood thus ending 3rd to St. John and Riverside, in the NEC.

"Spirit leads to success and that's what the girls' varsity team is headed for because of their great spirit and initiative to win," remarked Coach Baker. The varsity team has worked hard for the past two months drilling, conditioning, and gaining experience by scrimaging other teams. The season will be a little different because they now have all of the same rules of play that the boys do, which will be very challenging to them. Another thing that is totally new is that they will be participatin in city-wide competition. "The girls show good team work and the will to work which will also help them quite a bit during actual competition," said Coach Baker. She has great hopes for the 75-76 season in girls basketball. Even though the team has had it's share of injuries, the team shows great form during practices and games. Coach Baker says that the team is very enthusiastic and that is a very good sign of a winning team. She also mentioned that the team had good chances of obtaining the NEC title along with the City-Series title. Her hopes for next year are that the team will show as much, if not more enthusiasm than this year's team.

"The girl's junior varsity will set goals this season because of their great will to get out and win," recalls Coach Baker. The junior varsity team also has good spirit and the initiative to win. They do lack experience, but this will be over come during the season. "They have great spunk and energy which will help them along during their 75-76 season," remarked Coach Baker. The eight girl team has been working along with the varsity team in drills, and conditioning. They also scrimmage the varsity which enables them to not only gain experience but also to pick up a few pointers from the varsity team. The Coach's hopes for the season are ones of great desire.

Coach Armstrong has good hopes for his team because of their fantastically high initiative and their great team work to go along with it. The team, despite their share of injuries, has had a great season. The team shows good hustle, ability, and experience to go along with their initiative. The 1975-76 junior varsity team has shown great ability and the will to win. The varsity coach, Mr. Armstrong has great hopes for them next year. He says that the team shows great unison and ability. The team, even though it has had its share of injuries like the varsity, still has a great attitude toward winning and losing. Because the team has many experienced players they tend to lean toward the victorious side of each game. The team has been very successful in team competition which shows the sign of a champion.

"Even though there is a definite lack of size in this year's Freshman basketball team, they overcome it by their tremendous vigor and team attitude," remarked Coach John Higgins. The team is made up only Freshmen which sometimes sets them back because they don't have the experience that the Junior varsity or Varsity team has. The team shows great will to win which helps them out during the games. High point men are; Steve McElroy, Mark Jones, and Kip Eclund.

"Although the team lacked experience, they showed outstanding pride and determination," said Coach McQuaide. The 1975-1976 wrestling season was a rebuilding one for the Harbor Mariners. The young varsity team, coached by Dean McQuaide and his assistant John Rose, consisted of seven first year and seven returning wrestlers from the 74-75 season. First year wrestlers were: Dave Detore 105, Frank Clayman 138, Ron Fleming 98, Steve Peterson 112, Mark Hatch 185, Murray Blake 119, and Tom George 167. The returning wrestlers were: Chip Goodell 126, Mickey McElroy 132, Aaron Colling 145, Randy Jones 145, Larry Ende 155, Paul Clark 175, and Brett Horvath heavyweight.

Leading the team were Brett Horvath and Paul Clark, each with near perfect records. Both showed great ability and tremendous skill.

The varsity wrestling cheerleaders were outstanding leaders of school spirit. Participating in pep assemblies and other school activities, the girls helped raise school spirit.

The cheerleaders attended summer camp at Otterbein College, where they shared ideas with cheerleaders from all over. They also attended the NEC Cheerleader Clinic at Ashtabula High School.

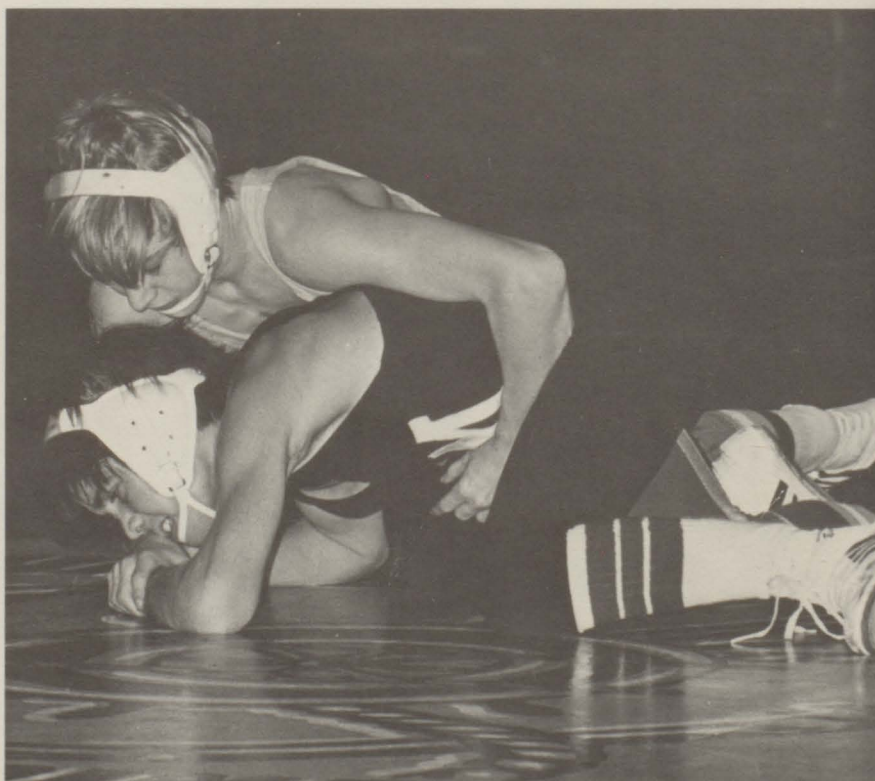

Some of the activities of the group were hall signs, locker treats, and presenting the coaches and seniors with scrap books. They also helped raise money in the annual cupon drive.

Imagination

Neither rain nor snow kept the 1975-76 freshmen cheerleaders from performing their jobs.

"They all tried very hard and even when it was cold, they still showed their enthusiasm and will to cheer," remarked advisor Mrs. Baker.

The squad consisting of: Valerie Fleckenstein, Kathy Kanne, Michelle Martino, Peggy Armstrong, and Gina Rose have all had at least 2 years of cheerleading experience.

The 1975-76 cheerleading squad had a successful year and showed much enthusiasm. "My squad kept me right up with all the sport activities as well as performing to a tee," remarked Miss Kunes, advisor.

The Varsity squad consisting of Becky Blake, Laura Armstrong, Jeanette Olsen, Sue Colicchio, Sue Powell, Lynn Gill, Anita Zappitelli, and Connie Chiacchiero had great imagination along with great form.

The J.V. squad consisted of Rena Palm, Lisa Ucciferri, Jill Kovacs, Kathy Huggins, Jo Ann Dragon, and Denise Howes. Miss Kunes stated that they also had a great imagination along with performing well in front of the crowds.

QUEEN JULIE and the Royal Princesses

On October 10, the night of the Harbor-Madison football game, Julie Stevens became Harbor's first major-ette-Homecoming Queen in fifteen years. She received her crown from team co-captains Kaiser Holman and Brett Horvath during the pre-game ceremonies. Others selected for the court were Laura Armstrong, Becky Blake, Sharon Anderson, Linda Lee, Becky Ray, LuAnn Ray, and Jeanette Olsen. Each girl received a charm from the Harbor Athletic Boosters and the queen was presented with a bouquet of roses.

The following night John Roskovics, Student Council president, crowned Julie a second time at the Homecoming Dance. Escorting the queen and her court were Dan Zeller, Dave Pinelli, Jeff Sanders, Brett Horvath, Martin Kossick, Scott Cocanower, and Dave Grippi. Music for the dance was provided by a local band, "Trouble County", and sponsored by the Senior Women.

The queen and her escort enjoy a slow dance after the coronation.

Planning to go on tour, Luiz?

Luiz takes five from the daily grind of classes.

Brought to You LIVE from Brazil!

Luiz Carneiro, Harbor's American Field Service student for this year, is a native of Campo Grande, Brazil. He was welcomed to Ashtabula by the Donald Gill family, with whom he stayed until November. He now resides with the Nick Buccis at 1039 Treelane Drive.

Luiz likes the calmness of a small town atmosphere as compared to a relatively large Campo Grande, and he says that Ashtabula is a lot quieter than his home town. Two things he had to get used to were American food, which is much less seasoned than Brazilian food, and the American language. His nickname back home was "Biano"—joker, and one of the worst problems of the language barrier was having his jokes misunderstood or taken seriously.

Luiz has found many things different from life in Campo Grande. His home school doesn't have the variety of clubs that Harbor has, and it doesn't get as cold. He had never seen snow before, so getting his first taste of it (which he actually did!) was quite an experience. He also made his skiing debut this winter on the slopes of Peek 'n' Peak.

Luiz carried an almost full schedule of courses including English, geography, P.O.D., trigonometry, physics, and art. He was also kept busy with activities—giving speeches, answering questions, going to games and Mac-Donald's, attending various culture programs, and helping out the AFS club. He and his brothers Ben, a senior, and Mark, a sophomore, played on the newly-formed soccer team with other local students. His outside interests include reading, music, camping, and girls.

"Friendship is forever," Luiz says, and we know for sure that his friends here at Harbor and in the whole of Ashtabula will never forget him!

Luiz proved to be a pretty hot hand at ping-pong, even when he played with Ben.

Suite 719

November 14 and 15 were the dates of this year's fall play—a Neil Simon comedy “Plaza Suite,” directed by Miss Frances Flood. The play consists of three incidents taking place in Suite 719 of the Plaza Hotel.

In Act II, Mark Pendleton and Kim Strausser play the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nash, who have been married “exactly twenty-three or twenty-four years.” Mark’s secretary, Janet Woodring, drops by with some “business” which leads the couple to a serious discussion of their marital problems building up in the past few years.

Next “Mr. Famous Hollywood Producer” (Matt Wallo) attempts to seduce his high school sweetheart (Linda Bish) who is now married. First he must convince her that there is nothing wrong with being alone together in a hotel suite.

A bride-to-be (Theresa DeDominic) has locked herself in the bathroom with last-minute worries in the final act. Her parents, Laureen Spring and Eric Carlson, try to coax her out but it isn’t until the groom (Richard Potter) tells her “Cool it!” then she makes her entrance.

Others cast were: Bob Owens, John Roskovics, and Mike Nojenen as waiters and a bellhop. The difficult job of stage manager went to Cookie Daniels.

Things to remember include over-worked prompters, dousing Eric with water, watching his feet go out from under him, long and/or levelly rehearsals, and two great performances!

Eric takes a turn out the window to fight the pigeons.

Desperately, Eric tries to escape the clutches of Laureen.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE...

... There wasn't any Variety Show this year. John Roskovics, Matt Wallo, and Tom Zapitelli were chosen as masters of ceremony; groups were working on skits and soloists were getting their vocal chords in shape; posters galore lay around on tables in Room 7; and two blank pages remained to be filled with Variety Show pictures in the yearbook. Unfortunately, the students couldn't get it together in time, and it was called off a week before the scheduled dates.

... These are the two blank pages that remained to be filled.

All The World's A Stage

The International Thespians of Harbor High, with Miss Fran Flood as advisor, promote drama and the fine arts among fellow students. They are kept quite busy producing the fall Jr.-Sr. Play, the Variety Show in the winter, and the spring musical.

Students are initiated into the club by having a certain number of points and going through one day of terror that ends with a fun-filled banquet and then on Thespian history.

Members encourage participation in the school productions both on stage and behind the scenes.

RED CROSS OFFS: Beth Ann Kaplan, Debbie Bilicic, Dawn Clark, Barb Smith, Carol Sistik, Sue Silvaggio, and Mrs. Harpst.

The Harbor High branch of the Red Cross gives its members an ideal chance to serve their school and community.

This year the activities of the club have included making favors for the Ashtabula County Society for the Handicapped, the pediatrics unit at the hospital, and the County Home, and sending friendship boxes overseas. They also gave an Easter party for the children at Happy Hearts.

To finance their many activities, members sold posters and other gift items under the watchful eye of Mrs. Harpst.

The foundation of the Math Club lies in the hope of widening its members conceptions of the field of mathematics. The agenda for the year included a field trip to Edinboro State College in Pennsylvania, accompanied by Miss Kunes, the advisor. Students toured the campus, participated in things like playing checkers with a computer, and attended educational filmstrips and a lecture.

Girls make the Sports Scene

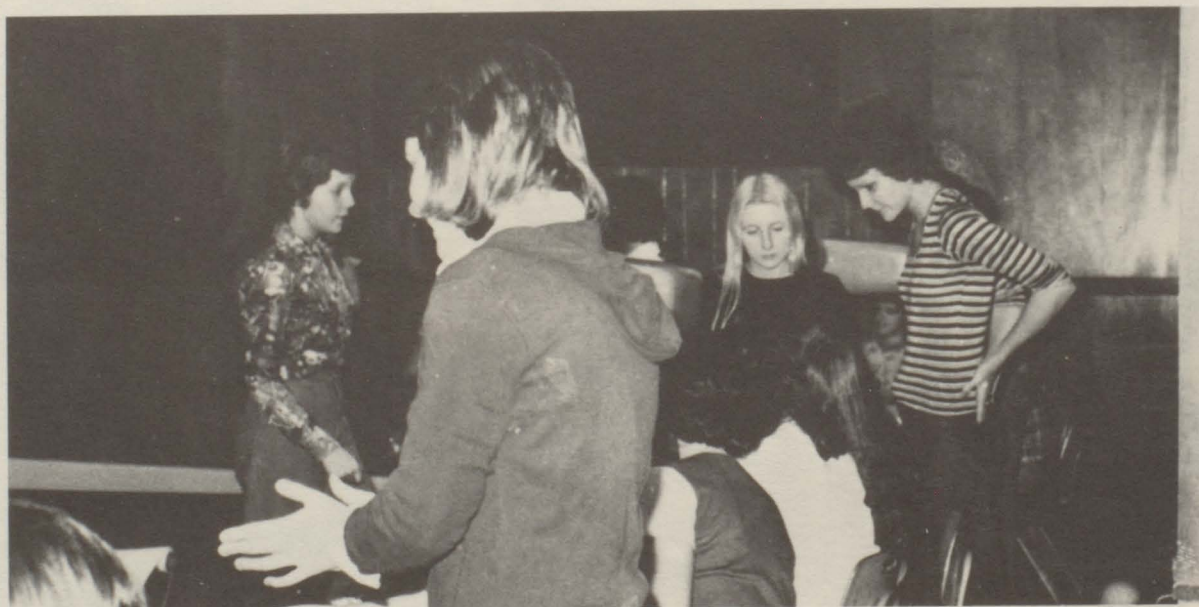

Good sportsmanship and further enjoyment of athletics are two of the main goals of the Girls' Athletics Association. This year, among other things, they sponsored a roller-skating party, a bowling party, a faculty-student volleyball game, organized intramurals, and adopted a family for Thanksgiving. They were also in-charge of the class tournaments. Advising the girls in fund-raising activities and other projects were Mrs. Crena Baker, and Mrs. Jennifer Lautanen.

NHS Lead Their CLASSES, Usher Squad Leads the MASSES

Usher squad's birds made great tree ornaments.

The National Honor Society is an organization that recognizes students for the qualities of academic ability, citizenship, character, and service. The Harbor High branch held an informal induction gathering at Sharon Anderson's home in January and a formal ceremony for both junior and senior inductees in the spring. Mrs. Encie Moroski helped the club with their Christmas candle sale and the Toys for Tots collection.

One of the busiest groups behind the scenes is the Usher Squad, a volunteer organization of Harbor girls who help with various school-sponsored events. They collect tickets and pass out programs at such things as the plays, the variety show, and the band concerts. They help lost parents find the right room on parent visitation day and help serve refreshments at the annual pop concert. Advised this year by Mrs. Norma Lillie, their money-raising projects included a bake sale and selling ribbon birds for Christmas trees.

Senior People

Each year a debate occurs between the seniors and the underclass as to whether they should be called Senior Women and Senior Men or Senior Girls and Senior Boys. The underclass always seem to agree on the latter!

Advised by Mrs. Edeburn, the Senior Women were very active this year selling popcorn at home football games, sponsoring the Homecoming dance, selling candy during A lunch and after school, and singing in the Variety Show. Funds raised during the year went into a gift to be presented to the school at the commencement ceremonies.

Senior Men weren't quite so active. Under the direction of Mr. Wilfong, members ordered yellow Senior Men shirts with a design on it. And that's about it besides outside individual activities!

Students turn out to meet Sylvie and eat the goodies.

American Field Service is an international organization that promotes better understanding between the people from different nations.

Of all the clubs at Harbor, this year's AFS took the top in membership, with over 100 paid members. They were also the busiest club around. Under the supervision of Mrs. Edith Reichert and Mr. Ben Pandora, they sold holiday pin-ons for a 5 ¢ or more donation, took Penny Wednesday collections each week, and sponsored the spirit chain. They had a Christmas sledding party and gathered later at Kathy Adams' house.

Helen Stehr and her family hosted the week-end exchange students from France, Sylvie Amzemberger, Dec. 11-14. Sylvie visited classes and had a chance to meet more people at a party held after school.

The Beat Goes On!

The 1975 marching band began its season by attending band camp at Dunkirk, New York during the summer. It was there that the idea for the "bump" was born and the "Sloopy Show" started to take shape. Their "Hang on Sloopy" routine was well-received by people on both sides of the football field.

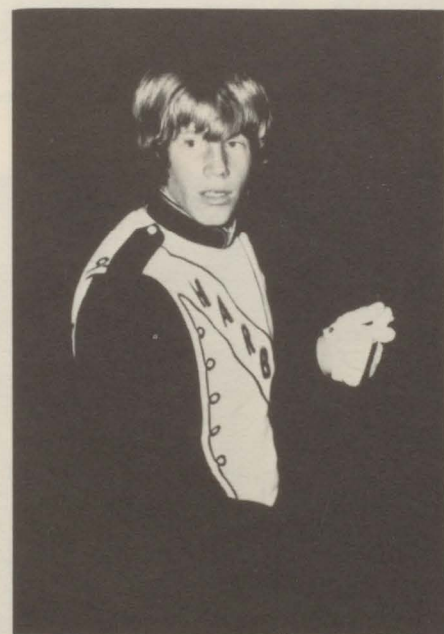

Boys rolled up their pants-legs, some of the more daring ones greased their hair, and girls wore bobby socks and band skirts for "Rock Around the Clock," part of a fifties show one night. At the Homecoming game, head clarinet Sharon Anderson and head twirler Julie Stevens sat on the court for pre-game activities climaxing with the coronation of Julie as queen. The band joined Ashtabula's band for a "Bicentennial Spectacular" featuring many famous patriotic numbers and the "Spirit of '76." Seniors created a new tradition—that of placing their hats in an anchor—at the last game of the season.

Concert season returned with winter and spring concerts, Solo and Ensemble Contest, and the Pop Concert. Other activities included marching at the Grape Jamboree and in other parades, and canvassing for the annual Music Booster Drive. Directors were Mr. Karl Meinhardt and Mr. Oliver Kaura, assisted by band president Eric Carlson. A favorite cheer: "We are rough! We are tough! We wear Harbor raincoats!"

A new tradition—the senior anchor—was born at the last half-time show.

Majorettes and Pep Band Get it on!

"Presenting the Harbor High School marching band under the field direction of Miss Julie Stevens!" said the announcer, and onto the field they came, led by their seven talented majorettes. They led the band into everything they did, including the coupon drive held in November and every parade. When Julie was crowned Homecoming queen, Barb Ray had a taste of being head majorette. Once through marching season, they all switched back to their various instruments.

Pep band played at all the home basketball games and assemblies. They tried to have a gimmick other than blue sweaters, like wearing mismatched shoes or bow ties, but it didn't work out. (The boys wouldn't wear the ties!) They practiced almost every Monday night at Kaleva Hall and initiated such things as the "Sloopy Fake" and their favorite "Get It On." They also played for the Variety Show in February.

SOME SCRIBBLE, SOME SCRAWL

Believe it or not, Harbor does have some creative geniuses running around loose.

Some of these geniuses make up the Art Club, an organization designed to let students further their art appreciation and display their talent. This year's group worked on an exhibit exchange with other schools, sold stationery, visited the Cleveland Museum, and set up displays at the pop concert. Advisor was Mrs. Nancy Hunt.

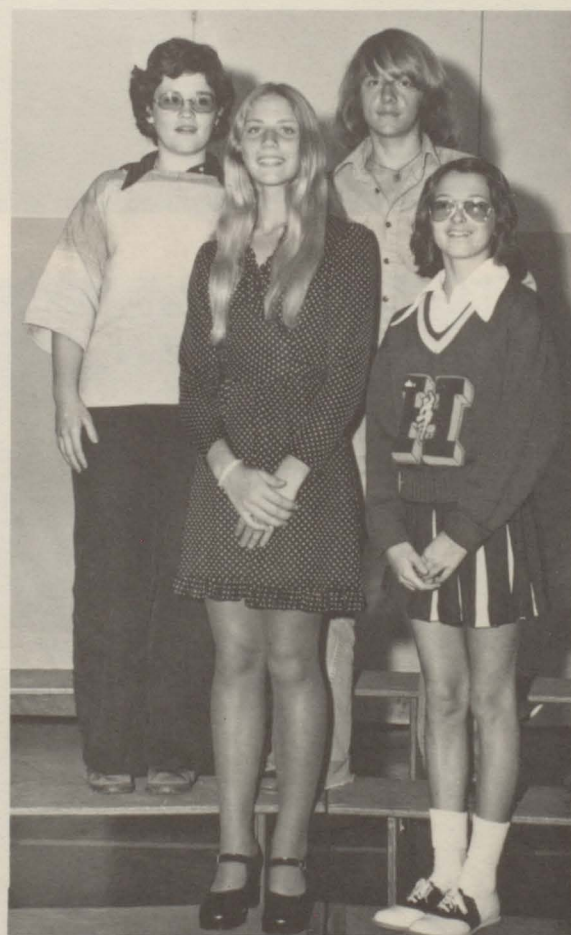

Others make up Quill and Scroll, a society of high school journalists in the top third of their class who made contributions to the paper or yearbook. Advisor was Mrs. Ardythe Kleesattel.

Student Writers, Student Teachers, Students in Action!

A new club was created this year under the supervision of Mrs. Gail Workman called the Student Writers Club. It's purpose was to publish a literary magazine featuring student art, poetry, and prose, and to give students who could not schedule creative writing a chance to put their own work on display. Committees were formed, a name chosen, and the hard work paid off with a unique spring publication.

Future Teachers of America is an old organization of Harbor designed to promote student interest in teaching. This year's projects included attending an education program at Kent State and adopting a family for Christmas. Mr. Raymond Edeburn again served as advisor.

Intramural games have once again provided Harbor students with an opportunity to compete in organized sports outside of the interscholastic program. Students formed volleyball and basketball teams and participated in weekly after-school games. This year Harbor added a new dimension to its intramural program with the formation of co-ed teams!

Some Sing....

Choir and Madrigals have always provided musical culture for Harbor through various assemblies and programs. Choir activities included a Christmas meditation, Winter and Spring concerts, the Variety Show, and the Pop Concert at the end of the year. They had bake sales and other fund-raising events to pay for new music. Mrs. Norma Lillie directed the students for her second year. The choir has grown since last year but she wishes more boys would participate.

Vocal music classes and choir have been moved to Kaleva Hall, which the school board purchased in the summer. Madrigals held several practices there too; other practices were held at Lois Peura's house on Sunday afternoons.

Madrigals chose four new members at the beginning of the year through after-school tryouts. They performed for many of the choir activities, a Senior Citizens group, church groups, and assemblies. Accompanists were Cindy Johnson, Gail Lillie, and Sue Powell, with Kathy Adams occasionally on flute.

The purpose of the Ski Club is to help its members improve their skills in this popular sport. The club made frequent trips to the slopes of Peek 'n Peak, going on Thursdays and occasional Saturday afternoons. Students provide their own transportation and ski equipment, bundle themselves up in hats and jackets, and then its off to New York for fun in the snow. Mr. Gary Quine, new to the Harbor staff, was the advisor this year.

Here Come de Press!

Not many students who pick up a Mariner stop to think who's behind it. Well, the journalism classes of Room 7 know because they're the ones who make it happen. They write the reports and editorials, type, take pictures, create headlines, lay out pages, and work hard to meet each deadline.

All material is shipped to the publisher's; then pasteups return and everyone hurries to line up columns, make sure everything is neat, and try to fill the holes that almost always seem to turn up. Copy is proofread, loose ends tied up, and it's all sent again to the publisher's.

After a few days the Mariners are back ready for distribution. Students help finance the paper by selling ads and co-sponsoring the Variety Show. Due to the retirement of Miss Mary Boyce, staff advisor for many years, Mrs. Ardythe Kleesattel experienced her first year on the job.

What it Took to MAKE this Book...

This year's yearbook staff is proud to present the 1976 edition of the MARINER to the students of Harbor High. In charge of the whole shebang were co-editors Amy Miller and Matt Wallo, and backing them up was advisor Mrs. Ardythe Kleesattel in her first year here due to the retirement of Miss Mary Boyce. With many new people being broken in, a lot of problems popped up, but this book is inanimate proof that everything finally ironed out.

Section editors soon got into the spirit of things laying out pages and setting their own staffs to work:

Organizing UNDERCLASS pictures, arranging candids, and trying to keep track of everybody's picture were the main concerns of Cheryl Pokelsek and Janet Woodring's staff.

The ADS staff rushed out to big and small businesses to sell the space in the back of the book, while editor Cindy Russell stayed at home base planning pages and getting final mats drawn up.

Freshmen got a chance to help by selling SUBSCRIPTIONS in home-room, along with others on Laureen Spring's staff.

ACTIVITIES, co-edited by Gail Lillie and Sharon Anderson, had little time on their hands. They sent photographers running to important club happenings for candids and organized all group and officer shots.

SENIOR ALBUM editors Lori Toivala, Jeannette Olsen, and Becky Blake were always crying for more—more pictures of seniors, that is. Their staff worked hard getting things just right for the Class of '76 and typing up the Senior Index.

Sue Reed and her ART staff were responsible for any art work done in the yearbook, and helped Amy and Matt plan the cover.

SPORTS coverage was another full-time job, as Mary Jo Stroeter and Larry Ende's staff found out. They kept busy with scores, teams, and cheerleaders.

Gail Evans and her LITERARY staff frequented Room 7 to help with captions and headlines. They wrote all the copy, except for what the other editors wrote themselves.

Last, but certainly not least, flash-bulbs popping and long strips of negatives were evidence that Janet Cordell's PHOTOGRAPHY staff had been lurking around. Practically all of the candid shots in the yearbook were turned out after long hours in the darkroom, isolated from civilization.

...AND THEN SOME

June 29, 1975, five Harbor students packed themselves and their belongings into a car and drove off to yearbook camp at Hiram College. During their five days' stay, Amy Miller, Lori Toivala, Cheryl Pokelsek, Carol Sistek, and Gail Lillie learned as much as they could about making a yearbook and met a lot of interesting people. But they weren't the only ones on the staff who worked hard—others included Betty Swanson from Barbican, photographers Mark Feigh and Clayton Rung, and all the typists who helped out.

Everyone Does His THING!

The members of the Audio Visual Club lend a hand in the maintenance and repair of projectors, record players, tape recorders, and other equipment. Advised by Mr. Raymond Edeburn, they took a field trip to a Cleveland T.V. station, sponsored the movie "Mr. Roberts", and visited an Ashtabula radio station.

Each year something unusual is seeing a favorite athlete walking around in shorts, suit coat, and dress shoes. This is part of the Monogram Club's initiation for boys who have earned a letter in a varsity sport. This year Mr. Platano, Mr. Wasulko, and Mr. Armstrong divvied up supervision. Members sold refreshments at the basketball games, polished the brass banisters in the upper auditorium, held a bake sale and a raffle, and attended a Cavaliers game at the Coliseum.

Pep Club members lead the student body in Mariner spirit with their active roles at Harbor sports events. Mr. Bob Jossen headed all activities of the club, which included selling "Go Harbor" ribbons for the football games and putting on skits for the pep assemblies.

Clubs break the Language Barrier

The Spanish Club, under the direction of Mrs. Caroline Stevenson, is designed to give its members further knowledge and understanding of the Spanish customs, culture, and language. The club meets monthly to plan fund-raising projects and other activities, such as a dinner at a Spanish restaurant in Cleveland.

The members of the German Club, also under Mrs. Stevenson's supervision, meet to gain a better understanding of the German language and culture, and to participate in activities dealing with German. This year's projects included selling hand lotion and buttons to help finance a trip to Frankenmouth, Michigan, a town with an outstanding German heritage. They also held a dinner at the Hofbrau House restaurant in Cleveland.

French Club operates under advisor Miss Peggy Dimacchia, keeping alive French culture in the school. Several members attended a French play "Phedre" at John Carroll University in Cleveland, and classes had a chance to talk with the weekend exchange student Sylvie and Edgewood's exchange student, Genevieve Vidal. Cheryl Pokelsek's home was the site of a Christmas party featuring French-style green beans and Mlle. Dimacchia's crepe suzettes. Other activities included a hayride, roller skating, ice skating, swimming, eating at a French restaurant, and various other things. The dream of all French clubbers is to someday go to France.

Old Clubs New Clubs Make It Happen!

The Student Council functions as the organizers of student activities and as the voice of the student body. Following the election of members from each homeroom, the Council got right down to business by sponsoring the freshmen welcoming dance and the Christmas dance. Each month, supervised by Mr. Robert Huff, they discussed and evaluated the issues brought to their attention and elected two Mariners of the Month. They also made a special gesture cleaning the St. John statue in an attempt to cut down the amount of vandalism prior to football games.

City-wide Student Council is an organization comprised of Harbor, Ash-tabula, Columbus, and West school representatives. The main purpose of the Cabinet is to serve as another means by which students can bring attention to things they feel are important. Only in its first year of existence, the Cabinet already has an impressive list of accomplishments. It has been instrumental in Activity Bus-ing, Open Curriculum, and eliminating most student fees for the class-room.

Another first-year organization at Harbor is the Music Club, founded and advised by Mr. Ray Moore. To build up their treasury, they sold peanuts at football games, co-sponsored the Christmas dance, sold appointment & date books and Harbor buttons, and held some bake sales. Main goals of the club are to further music appreciation in the school and to allow participating members a chance to use the profits for trips to musical shows.

THE SCHOOL AWAY FROM schOOl--

Students from all over Ashtabula County can attend the Vocational School in their junior and senior years. The school is designed to give those with definite careers in mind a chance to take courses directly related to that particular career. Their two years at JVS provide them with better employment opportunities when they get to the outside world.

JVS had their own yearbook staff, who also prepared a column for the Harbor Mariner issues. The staff included Brenda Loudermilk, editor, Debbie O'Neill, Teri Hood, Anne Gordon, Lisa Tuuri, and Chuck Amzibel.

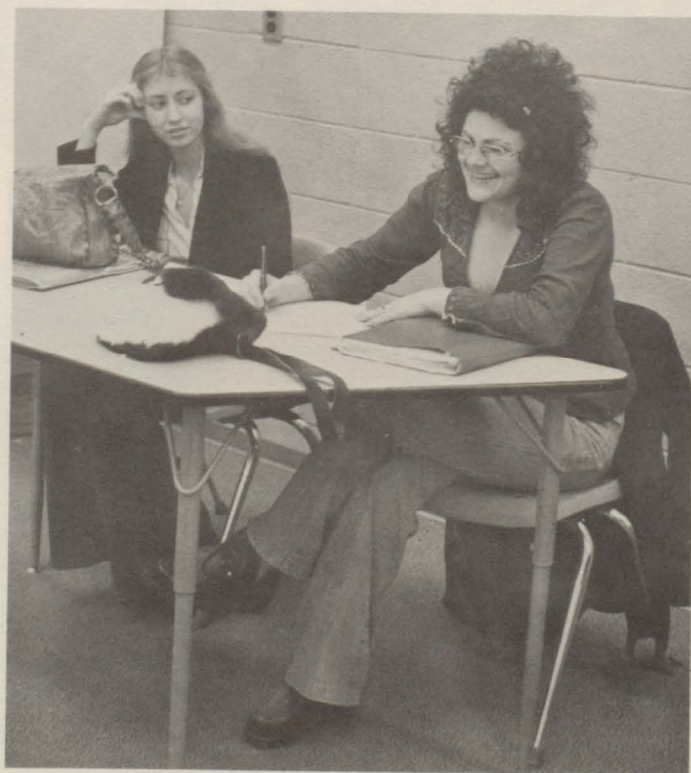

Although the Vo-ed students sometimes seem to be isolated from the rest of us, they do participate in our sports and activities, and graduate here with their class.

ACADEMIC CHALLENGE TEAM Put On HOLD.....

This year's seniors chosen for the Academic Challenge team include Eric Carlson, Gail Evans, Dave Frielich, Chip Goodell, Jeanette Olsen, and John Olsen. As far as we know, they haven't done anything, but at least they deserve recognition for making the team after trying out with their fellow classmates. Mr. Robert Huff is their drill master, as he has been in many years previous.

"Gee, that's a toughie, Mr. Huff! say the six.

A JOY: A SADNESS

Jeff Jones makes a "pass" at Mr. Mossford.

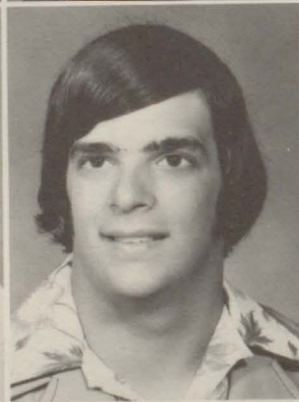

The Class of '76 will soon be leaving the halls of Harbor High. The four years, which were an eternity to us as freshmen, have at last passed by all too quickly. We will leave Harbor with mixed emotions. Looking forward to the future, there is joy at the dreams to be fulfilled. Yet there is a reluctance in our departure, and uncertainty ahead. Sadly we must leave the people we have come to love and respect, both friends and teachers. There is one gift we all will cherish in the uncertain years ahead—our memories of Harbor High School.

FROSH SPIRIT IS SPOOKED

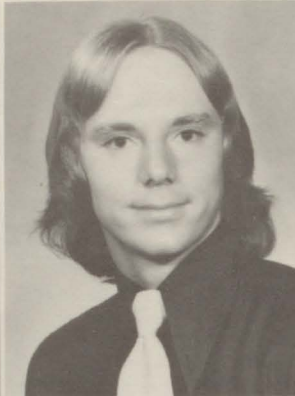

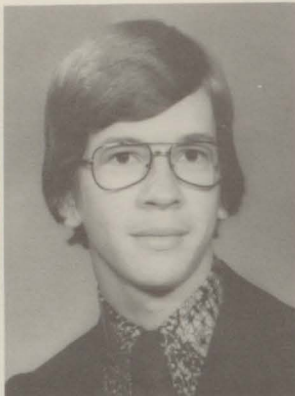

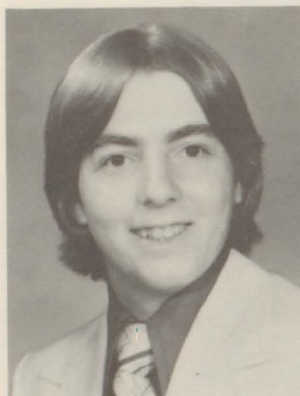

Being a freshman was at first frightening; the seniors looked so big, the teachers so mean, and the halls so confusing, but as soon as the initial shock wore off, the class of '76 was ready to start their high school experience.

As every one of us knew, the most important thing to do was raise money for "the Junior-Senior Prom." Willing to take on anything, we made an all out effort. There were bake sales and car washes, and finally the FIRST ANNUAL MAGAZINE SALE! The money we made that 1st year equaled the normal gain for a 3 year effort.

Being excellent workers, we managed to live up to our name—the class of '76 with the spirit of '76. At pep assemblies no one could out-yell us with Battle Cry, yet the school didn't see us at our finest pep-wise until the Class Tournaments. We showed prophetic nature when we chose our theme to be "the 50's" even before the nostalgia fads. Despite the fact that we were quickly eliminated during the play, we managed to receive the most awards at the end.

WE EARNED MORE THAN RESPECT

At last we were sophomores, and we gained more respect. No longer were we pushed around by upper classmen, because we had shown them we had gumption. After a brief rest, it was back to work again.

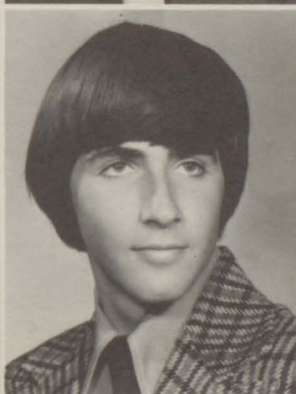

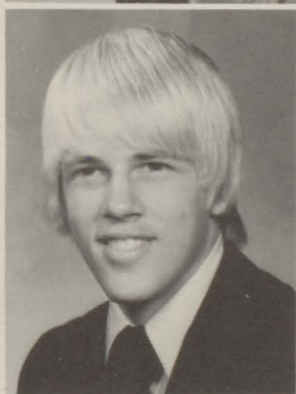

We decided to raise more money than any class before us, so we sold peanut butter and mint candies. Along with the usual bake sales and car washes, there was the Annual Sophomore Car Wash before the Prom.

SPIRIT RINGS IN THE GYM

One of the highlights of our sophomore year was the ordering of our class rings. After much decision and worry we finally voted on the style. Then there was the long lines for order. The trouble was all forgotten when the rings FINALLY arrived.

During the Class Tournaments, the class of '76 once more showed their spirit. The theme this year was Disneyland and our section of the gym was alive with all the Disney characters. Award-wise the class of '76 came out on top, to the dismay of the other classes.

JUNIOR YEAR-- "A SEA OF WORK"

Another year went by and at last we were Juniors and ready to put on our Prom. Despite our over-flowing Treasury, we decided to make one last earning effort. The big sale this time was Mariner Decals. At last we were ready for the Big Prom. First, there was the selection of the theme. With the vote of the class, "Journey to Atlantis" won. Next, committees were formed and chairmen selected. Work was begun! There were supplies to be bought or donated, and bands to be hired; walls had to be decorated and the ceiling had to be hung. Some of us were busy creating props, while others decorated tables. It seemed as if we'd never get done in time . . . but we did!

AS JUNIORS— WE WENT ALL OUT

Although we were busy most of the time working to make the Prom a success, we still had time to keep up our image. Many of us were involved and excelling in all Harbor's activities. There were Juniors in yearbook, newspapers, all sports, and clubs taking charge and working hard. We did our best to improve our lot.

When the Class Tournaments came along we were ready. Our Junior boys won out over the seniors and our girls came in second. Once again we made a great showing in the award department, proving to the rest of the school that we still had the "Spirit of '76."

As Seniors we continued to carry on our tradition. With the Prom over and done with, we were then able to devote our time to the approach of graduation. During the summer of '75, Seniors prepared to have their graduation pictures taken. After school began, orders were taken for Senior announcements. In the spring we were measured for our caps and gowns. As the year came to a close there were hours of practice for the event—graduation.

Our senior year was a special one, for it was also the Bicentennial of our country. Being the "Class of '76" made us proud people, not only of ourselves, but also of the nation that we live in.

HHS - A PART OF US!

The past is all behind us now and it is time to look to the future. This is not the end, but, as meant by commencement, a beginning. Our LIVES are really just starting. Some of us will get married and settle down. Others will get jobs or join the armed forces. Still others will go off to college and begin careers. Yet we will all look back on these last four years with fond memories. Harbor High School is a part of us, whether we like it or not. Not only did we learn here, we lived here. Hopefully Harbor will remember us with the same endearment! HARBOR HIGH SCHOOL—Thank You!!!

SPIRIT WITH A CAPITAL "S"

The enthusiasm of the class of '77 has been evident throughout their three years at Harbor. As sophomores, the girls' class tournament team defeated the class of '76. In that winning effort, the junior cheering section received the "best spirit award."

At football games, the juniors showed some of the greatest spirit. First prize went to the '77 float in the first annual "Beat Bula" parade, while some of the junior cars also received awards for crazy decorations.

Next year promises to be even better than this one as the class of '77 concludes its high school years.

KICKING TO A PROM

One of the highlights of the year was the donkey basketball game sponsored by the juniors. A few daring teachers and an equal amount of junior guys braved the unpredictable animals and tried to carry on a basketball game. A capacity crowd saw the juniors limp victoriously off the floor.

As sophs, they held a successful candy sale which increased the present treasury.

Magazine sales comprised their first project as freshman. This started their treasury off good. The juniors are hoping for one of the best proms ever.

ON THE GO

As the school year began, members of the class of '78 gladly passed on the lowliness of being freshmen and took on the challenge of being sophomores. A sigh of relief could be heard from the new sophomores for they no longer had to take all the blame; they no longer had to worry where their classes were; they no longer had to do as they were told. Now they are sophomores! Now they could do all these things to the new freshmen!

Of course most sophomores aren't as jealous as this, but few sophomores are able to resist at least showing off for the freshmen, and the class of '78 is no exception, especially the boys who love to see the new freshmen girls gaze admiringly as they casually explain which is the LOWER office.

MONEY! MONEY! MONEY!

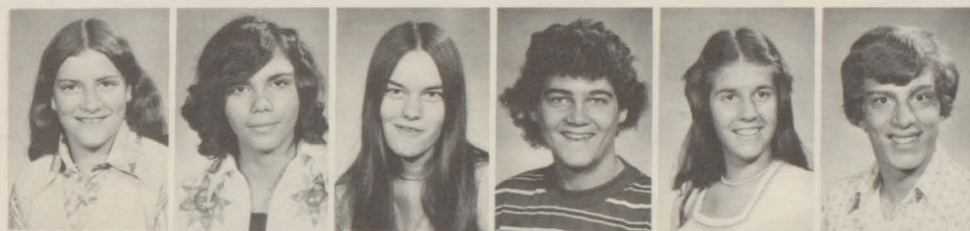

One of the first and foremost jobs of the sophomore class is to earn money for next year's prom. The class officers with the help of advisers Mr. John Higgins, Mrs. Encie Moroski, Mr. Ray Moore, Mr. Frank Roskovics, and Mrs. Gail Workman, have been busy coming up with ideas. Along with the average little moneymaking schemes, the class of '78 has created another first in the history of Harbor.

As a sign of the times and ingenuity of the sophomore class, their big project was a record and tape sale. Members of the class anxiously took part, each trying to make their homeroom tops.

Who knows what lurks in the minds of these Harborites?

RINGS & THINGS

A big event in the life of a sophomore is the ordering of his class ring. Decisions begin to mount as choices increase; gold or silver? What color stone? circular or square? name or no name? Luckily this is easily handled by the competent sophomore class. Of course a mix-up will happen and many a sophomore confused the company Joston's with Mr. Jossen, but this is straightened out. At last when they finally come in, everything is forgotten while friends compare rings.

Spirit is inborn in most '78'ers and is self-evident in everything they take part in. At pep assemblies the other classes find it a difficult task to out cheer the sophomore section and the Pep club is just swarming with 10th graders. At games, whether playing or just watching, the '78ers try their best to prove that Harbor is No. 1.

FROSH, SEEING IS BELIEVING!

Almost everyone gives freshmen a bad impression of high school. It's scary—lookout for the teachers—buy your tickets now for the use of the band stairs. No wonder they get such ideas.

The first day of school the freshmen huddle together in little groups—excited, perhaps even a little frightened. But as they began getting acquainted with the building and the routines, they found it to really be fun.

Despite being “knocked around” by the upperclassmen, they managed to keep a smile on their faces. The frosh girls walked around with their heads in the clouds as they spied those upperclass guys. The frosh guys wondered if they would ever play football like that or be a member of a club only juniors and seniors could belong to.

Seeing Harbor is believing it, but the freshmen have much more to see.

The freshmen spirit catches

FROSH COMIN' THRU

Members of the class of '78 came to Harbor High last fall in the somewhat less than coveted roles of freshmen and have long since proven that they can hold their own in a world of upperclass harrassment. Beginning with the election of class officers, throughout the football and basketball seasons, and in their participation in class projects and school clubs, the freshmen have shown enthusiasm and Harbor Pride in all the things they have done.

With the help of their class advisers the freshmen have adapted well to life at Harbor, making their debut as Mariners successful and triumphant. They are destined to a future of proper action at Harbor, the magnitude of which will be greatly increased as soon as they determine which is the UP and which is the DOWN staircase.

You don't have to be a freshman to have a little fun.

LOOKING AHEAD

The freshmen class has passed the first trial at Harbor—and survived. Now they can look forward to picking on next year's frosh. Many say that they don't do anything like that, but past experience says all new sophs pick on freshmen just a little. This year's freshmen should prove no different.

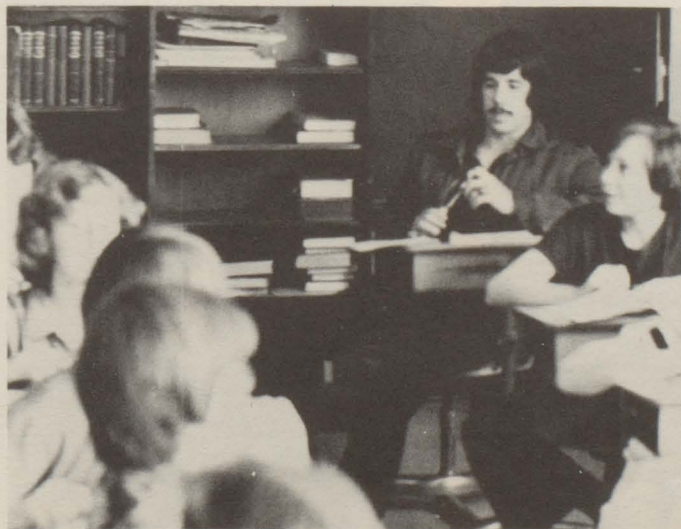

Freshmen take a different point of view on life.

BLIND LEADING THE BLIND?

Class projects and activities don't just happen by themselves, they require the dedicated planning and organization of the individual class officers and advisers. Four officers are elected every year by the students of each class to represent them. These officers not only organized all class related projects, they also represented their students at student council meetings.

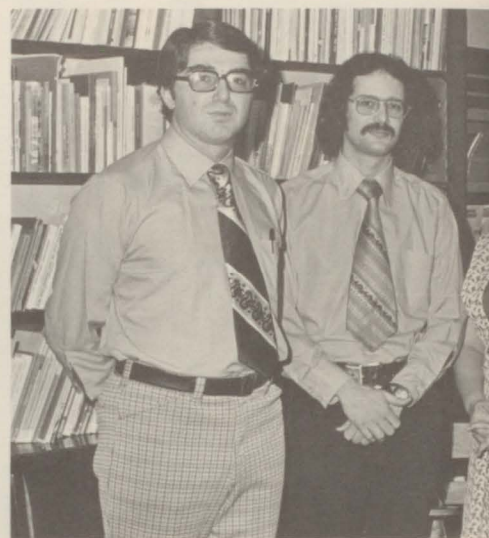

The officers do not act alone, they are under the supervision and guidance of the class advisers. Every incoming freshman class is assigned teachers to act as advisers to the students. They meet with the officers to approve and help organize activities. These advisers remain with the class throughout their four years at Harbor. The advisers are called on to approve all money matters.

Principals Steer Students

This is Robert Purtilo's third year as principal of HHS. Even though Mr. Purtilo has been on Harbor's staff for nine years, his association goes back to his days as a student here. A former HHS band member, he has carried on his love of music as both a band director and choir director at high school, university, and church. Besides music, Mr. Purtilo also enjoys bowling and being with his children.

Serving as secretary to the principal for 20 years is Edna Beckman. Much of her free time is spent working in many community groups. When she's not working, Mrs. Beckman likes to read, travel, and listen to music.

Bill Licate has spent seven years at Harbor of which the last three were as assistant principal. Being in charge of truancies and attendance, Mr. Licate claims to be "advisor to all." Among his many pastimes are cooking, playing with trains, collecting antiques, and shooting trees.

Secretaty to the assistant principal is Dolores Forinash. This is her eighth year working at Harbor. In the summer she spends her time on the golf course, while the winter's weather moves her inside for bowling.

Guidance Relaxes Students

During the course of a day, students often find the Guidance Office a haven from the pressures of school. There is a constant flow of people traveling through because they, lost freshman, are trying to find the lower office or seniors are worried about their future, and the Guidance Office offers a rest.

Helping to straighten out the student problems is Steve Candela. Mr. Candela is a nine year Harbor veteran. He was a former science teacher. Although he spends much of his spare time running, he also enjoys fishing and hunting.

New to Harbor this year is Nancy Jones, also a counselor. Her interests range from sewing to tennis with many things between.

Lastly, the most vital person of the Guidance Department is Eleanor Andrews, secretary for seven years. Mrs. Andrews is admittedly a "sports nut" and when she can find time away from her busy work schedule, she reads and watches "all sports"

They Specialize

Harbor employs many specialized individuals. Robert Short, in his 5th year, teaches driver training. Fishing and boating are among his favorite activities. Teaching Special Education are Susan Incorvia and Ed Armstrong. Also teaching for 5 years, Mrs. Incorvia likes reading and sewing. Mr. Armstrong, in his 4th nonconsecutive year, spends most of his spare time coaching the basketball team. Dan Platano teaches OWA (Occupational Work Adjustment) a government funded project. When he's not coaching football, Mr. Platano tries to get in some golf. Edith Peterson is the nurse for all area schools. Her favorite past time is sewing.

All Harbor students have at one time or another used Topky Library. Handling the needs of the public and school are three devoted librarians: Marian Huffman, Rita Balog, and Marian Myllymaki.

Among the workers of Harbor are the custodians and firemen. Fred Mossford, Jon Ashley, and Betty Muncy do their best to keep the school in good condition. Working to keep the school warm are Pete Carlson and Roland Kelly.

During 5th period many Mariners encounter four hard working women, Harbor's lunch ladies. They are Rolsuta Huffman, Allie Talvola, Marian Lundi, and Marie Oxley.

INSPIRATION BREEDS SUCCESS!

Spirit brings people together in many different ways. In school we come together through many different functions. We get together at sporting events to show spirit for a common cause—the team. Some of us come together through publications and our spirit endured through all the hard work. Plays are another way in which we join forces to produce success. Spirit survives in all these events in order to produce an end product of which we are proud of. Spirit is important to these activities, for if it doesn't last, success becomes failure.

There are other events in which spirit is involved but isn't shown outwardly. Dancing, among others, is one of these. Classmates congregate at school or other dances and show their feelings for others. Spirit gives us these feelings and the power to show them to others. Strong spirit is the essence, for without it success again becomes failure. The mainstream of a successful life is everlasting spirit. Spirit breeds success since it keeps us going on the right track until we meet success.

SPIRIT IS ENDURING

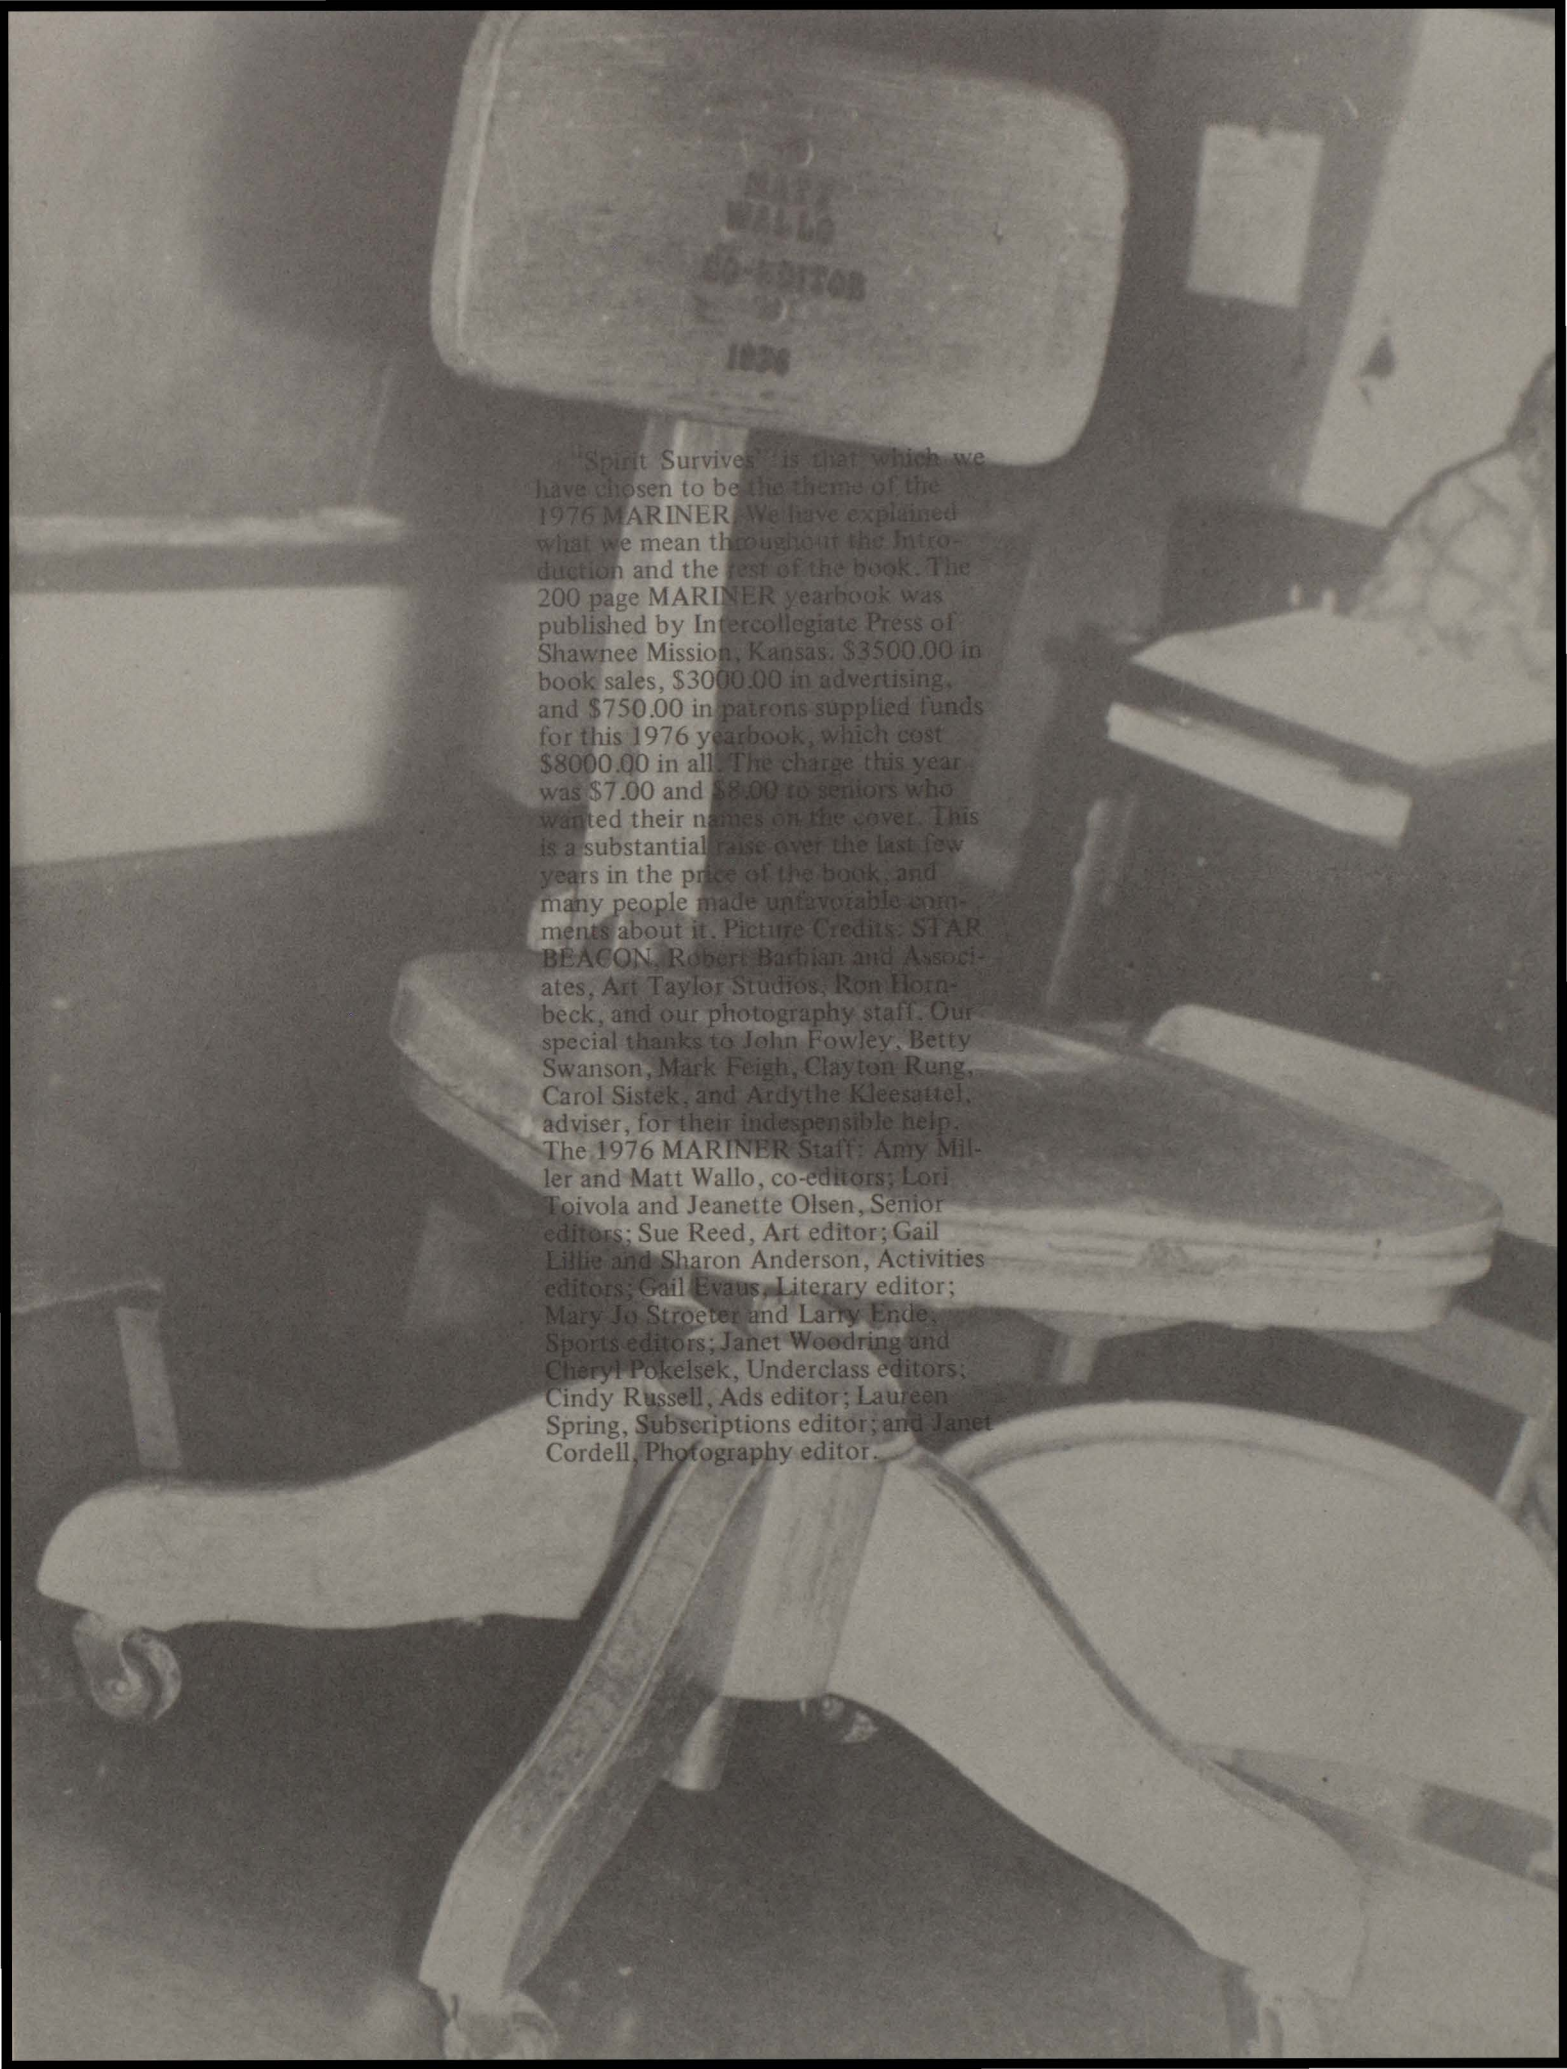

SPIRIT & SURVIVES

Well, it's over now. It's been a very long year, and we've survived. It took a lot of inspiration and spiritual endurance to survive the year and make it a success.

The community, school, and people as individuals and groups have rallied jointly to make this wonderful year a success. The flaming spirit of 1976 will produce uncontrollable and effervescent enthusiasm in the coming years.

Attempting to overcome adversity, Nelson Benedict leaps for a shot.

"Spirit Survives" is that which we have chosen to be the theme of the 1976 MARINER. We have explained what we mean throughout the Introduction and the rest of the book. The 200 page MARINER yearbook was published by Intercollegiate Press of Shawnee Mission, Kansas. $3500.00 in book sales, $3000.00 in advertising, and $750.00 in patrons supplied funds for this 1976 yearbook, which cost $8000.00 in all. The charge this year was $7.00 and $8.00 to seniors who wanted their names on the cover. This is a substantial raise over the last few years in the price of the book, and many people made unfavorable comments about it. Picture Credits: STAR BEACON, Robert Barblian and Associates, Art Taylor Studios, Ron Hornbeck, and our photography staff. Our special thanks to John Fowley, Betty Swanson, Mark Feigh, Clayton Rung, Carol Sistek, and Ardythe Kleesattel, adviser, for their indispensible help. The 1976 MARINER Staff: Amy Miller and Matt Wallo, co-editors; Lori Toivola and Jeanette Olsen, Senior editors; Sue Reed, Art editor; Gail Lillie and Sharon Anderson, Activities editors; Gail Evaus, Literary editor; Mary Jo Stroeter and Larry Ende, Sports editors; Janet Woodring and Cheryl Pokelsek, Underclass editors; Cindy Russell, Ads editor; Laureen Spring, Subscriptions editor; and Janet Cordell, Photography editor.
